THERE is a Kennedy Tackle Box to meet the requirements of every fisherman whether he is going fishing for a day or for a month's fishing trip.

KENNEDY TACKLE BOXES are built to withstand the hardest usage and are water tight. They are finished in durable brown baked enamel, and fitted with strong corbin locks with loop catches that prevent the box falling open when it is not locked. The handles are leather, reinforced with steel cores.

Style No. 612 is a small compact box of practical design which is very popular. The Two trays are divided to accommodate five or more plugs, or other artificial bait in addition to snelled hooks, sinkers, etc. The bottom of the box has a separate compartment for reels.

Style No. 614 is shaped like a leather traveling bag. The trays fit flush to a lid covering which securely fastens so that the contents cannot spill.

Style No. 621 will carry full casting equipment including rods. There are enough compartments in the trays to carry a good assortment of plugs. This is an ideal box for a fishing trip.
